

Military Culture 101

One hour presentation available to area agencies (additional panel discussion optional). Free of charge.

While Medical, Mental Health and Substance Use Disorder treatment providers often encounter veterans, service members, and military family members, they don't always know it. Veterans do not always identify themselves and can be uncomfortable asking for help, even when they need it. Military experience can impact a veteran's and their families' mental health, habits, and relationships. A clear understanding of a person's history is critical to the appropriate diagnosis and treatment of a health problem. It may be the difference between life and death. The best way to ensure service members and veterans get the best possible care is to identify and understand them!

The Military Liaison Initiative is an Initiative of the NH Department of Health and Human Services

Learn about:

- Military Culture and how it influences veterans' attitudes towards mental health treatment
- How to build critical rapport with a reluctant military-veteran client.
- The impact of military stressors on mental health and substance use.
- How to help a family understand the emotional effects of deployment on the whole family.
- The relationship between military experiences and medical symptoms

For more information, or to schedule a presentation, please contact:

Mark Boegel, LCMHC
Intake Clinician/Military Liaison
The Mental Health Center of Greater Manchester
(603) 206-8712
boegelma@mhcgm.org

